Nykhor Paul was born in a refugee camp in Ethiopia, where she spent the first 10 years of her life. Her family was forced to flee their home in Sudan due to the ongoing civil war. In the camp, Nykhor and her family lived in poverty and faced discrimination. But despite the challenges she faced, Nykhor never gave up on her dreams.

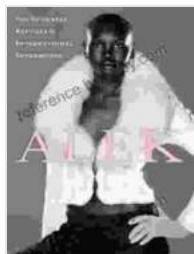

At the age of 10, Nykhor and her family were resettled to the United States. She quickly learned English and began attending school. She also started modeling, and soon caught the attention of the fashion industry. In 2009, she signed with IMG Models and made her runway debut at New York Fashion Week.

Since then, Nykhor has become one of the most successful models in the world. She has walked the runways of top designers such as Marc Jacobs, Louis Vuitton, and Gucci. She has also appeared in campaigns for major brands such as Nike, Adidas, and L'Oréal.

In her new book, My Life From Sudanese Refugee To International Supermodel, Nykhor shares her story in her own words. She offers a unique glimpse into the life of one of the world's most successful models, and she provides an inspiring message of hope and resilience.

Nykhor's story is a reminder that anything is possible if you never give up on your dreams. She is an inspiration to all who face challenges in their lives, and her book is a must-read for anyone who wants to achieve their goals.
