This heart-pounding thriller tells the story of Sarah, a single mother who is struggling to make ends meet. One day, a stranger shows up at her door, claiming to be her long-lost brother. Sarah is initially hesitant to believe him, but she eventually lets him into her home.

As the stranger spends more time with Sarah and her daughter, Sarah begins to realize that there is something not quite right about him. He seems to know a lot more about her than he should, and he seems to be hiding something from her.

Sarah's suspicions are confirmed when she discovers that the stranger is not who he claims to be. He is a dangerous man with a dark past, and he is determined to hurt Sarah and her daughter.

Sarah must now race against time to stop the stranger before he can carry out his plans. But can she do it before it's too late?

Stranger at the Door is a well-written and suspenseful thriller that will keep you guessing until the very end. Rachel Marin does a great job of creating a sense of dread and suspense, and she keeps the reader on the edge of their seat throughout the entire book.

If you're a fan of thrillers, then you need to read Stranger at the Door. It's a book that you won't be able to put down until you finish it.
